could gueſs by a piece of it which remained, and ſuppoſe that viii or ix Grains fell to a ſhare.

Olaus Borrichius, Act. Med. Barthol. Vol. 4. Obſ. 80. gives a Chymical and Microſcopical examen of thoſe Flies; he ſaith, their parts ſeparated by Chymiſtry do not affect the Skin; that the points of their Particles wound it; and that through thoſe little wounds the Volatile Salt inſinuates; he attempts alſo to ſhew how they cauſe a Dyſuria, and offend the Bladder, when applied to a part ſo remote as the Back or Neck. See more from the ſame hand, in the 5th Vol. Obſ. 89.

LONDON, Printed for S. Smith and B. Walford at the Princes Arms in St Pauls Church-yard. 1702.

The following Books are now in the Preſs at Paris.

Bibliotheca Regia, ſive Catalogus librorum Bibliothecæ Regiæ, in fol. 6 vol. ſub prælo.

Hiſtoire generale des Arts & des Manufactures, avec de grandes Planches, ſous la preſſe.

Diarium & Monumenta Italica per Dom. Bernard. de Montfaucon, ordinis Sti Benedicti Congregationis S. Mauri, in 4o. 6 vol. cum figuris.